Be A Booster

NOW that Sonoma's streets are to be paved let's all get behind the project, give it our hearty approval, no matter what our former opinions, and congratulate ourselves on the new community era. Bury the hammer and buy a horn. We will get a better job by creating the proper atmosphere for our progressive officials and those who have been engaged to do our work. Be a booster!

Out of the Nest, a Swan

THE PEOPLE of the State of California have voted repeatedly against the adoption of the national program of enforcement of prohibition, and yet Governor Stephens had the nerve to sign the Wright bill, which a vote-trading, shiftily legislature had the brazen temerity to hatch up, and would foist on an unwilling majority. If this is government with consent of the governed, we will have to be shown. If Governor Stephens was a true proponent of good government and valued the democracy which has always been the pride of America, he would have vetoed this bill, notwithstanding his personal sentiment. He has every right to his opinion, even to that exalted sentiment relative to the enforcing of the laws of the nation regardless of the state, but if the people, whose servant he is, believe they can be better Americans by saving an unpopular law from falling into disrepute at the hands of an unsympathetic public and realize that the state police power would be sponsoring a hypocritical facade, were it not more to the credit to the Governor to heed their voice and value their counsel? Governor Stephens is not the servant of the legislature nor is he a law unto himself. There is danger of democracy's toppling where a legislature dares to toy with questions such as this and periodically produces a wonderful white swan to be shot to pieces where no prestidigitator's tricks were required, and yet the Governor himself succinctly subscribes to the legend. There can be but one outcome: Our seemingly well entrenched executive must yet learn to the swan's song. The call for economy and rejection of Volsteadism have been plainly voiced by the people of California and have gone unheeded. No matter how beautiful, how ideal, how beplumed, you cannot hatch swans for people who want chickens nor create millenniums for human beings who want this old world as is.

What a Contemporary Thinks of Our Adjourned Legislature

AFTER months of wind-jamming and jaw-smithing the legislature of California has adjourned, during which time thousands of dollars of the taxpayers' money were wasted, additional burdens were imposed, and not one single piece of constructive legislation was enacted.

The session was marked and distinguished throughout by utter lack of wise counsel and leadership, by ineptitude for constructive thought and action, and by an indifference to the public welfare that may well occasion anxiety on the part of those who incline to intelligent progress, efficiency and economy in the promotion and administration of public affairs.

Hundreds of worthless and senseless bills were introduced, pernicious trading of votes was brazenly indulged in, much time was wasted, problems of social and economic concern to the public received scant attention, and on the already bent shoulders of over-burdened taxpayers was piled the largest aggregate appropriation in the history of the state.

The session began with great pretense of economy. The over-burdened taxpayer was encouraged to believe that parasitic bureaus, boards, commissions and political what-nots would be summarily wiped out and that substantial economies would be effected by consolidation of these agencies. It would seem from the consolidation effected that this was all mere camouflage and was intended to allay suspicion and distract the public attention while the most of the parasitic hog was being sunk deeper in the trough.

Consolidation could have been effected with increased efficiency and reduced expense, but this would mean less noses in the trough, an accomplishment quite alien to the objective of modern politics and politicians.

There is a prevalent belief that we have too many laws, that the necessity of new and revised laws to meet new and changed conditions no longer obtains to the extent of essentializing biennial sessions, and that quadrennial, or better still, decennial sessions should be substituted.

There is merit in this suggestion and it will take but a few such sessions as the one just closed to give the movement necessary impetus, for it by this arrangement the people can affect insurance for a longer period against legislative ineptitude and extravagance. It is safe to assume they will undertake the experiment.

It would seem that in California at least the theory that everything is limited but space should be revised so as also to except taxation.—Manufacturing News

WITH all the reconstructions we have had of the value and high cost of labor it should be apparent to everyone that everything we do ourselves in the way of work is stored-up capital. We can commercialize that hour in the morning now spent in snoring in our boudoirs by getting out in the garden, cleaning up the walks, painting the fences or doing something to beautify and enhance the value of the home. It will not only add to the beauty and value of your property but it will make the home town look that much better. Remember the old truism, "As the unit so is the aggregate."

JUST back from Southern California with a fresh perspective and imbued with the spirit that put Los Angeles on the map Editor Willoughby of the Healdsburg Enterprise says: "Let's cultivate a boost spirit all the time when talking to visitors and when writing to the old folks at home. Encourage the outsider to come in and expound his views instead of telling him he has to live around here for a century to see what is going on and before he can become a good citizen. It's the outside ideas that build up a community and make it prosper. It isn't the inside ones."

DOC RANEY, mascot of Boyes Springs, had an odd case the other day when a patient appeared and asked to have a kink taken out of his spine—due to riding over the Santa Rosa-Schellville road. Raney is going to send his bill to the State Highway Commission. Good idea!

THE Healdsburg Tribune and its editor, Earl Adams, are to be congratulated on the progressive and successful booster number of the Tribune recently issued. It teems with the spirit which makes communities go ahead and is a very creditable edition.

IN THE present state of mind of the people it would not take much advertising to get 'em all going skyward if only a Henry Ford of the air would come along with a consignment of flying Lizzies. To rise above highway problems would be joyous relief.

JUDGING by the expression on the faces of passing motorists they do not take joy rides over Sonoma roads but jar rides.

LUDEMANN - KUSTER LITIGATION RULING

That a husband may not from his wife's separate property declare a homestead, except during her lifetime, and with consent, while opposite is true in the case of a woman, is one of the interesting legal points made in litigation over the estate of the late Mrs. Emma H. Kuster of Glen Ellen.

The opinion comes as the result of opposition filed by Adolph F. Ludemann, brother of the deceased, to the final account of Hugo L. Kuster, husband of the deceased, and administrator of her estate, in which Ludemann charged that Kuster had improperly charged various items of expense, including funeral costs, to the estate. Judge Thompson rules against Ludemann that the funeral costs are a proper charge under the circumstances, although upholding Ludemann in his contention that certain other minor items, telephone calls, and unnecessary improvements on the Kuster ranch, were not proper charges and should be paid by Kuster himself.

Ludemann also objected to the husband claiming a homestead on his wife's property, and in this the court upholds him, refusing the homestead. Judge Thompson goes deeply into the questions involved in this case. Mrs. Kuster when she married Kuster, was possessed of independent means. Her estate was appraised at $17,700 shortly after her death, March 31, 1919. On the other hand, her husband had only a half interest, worth $1000, in a small ranch, the total value of his property.

Kuster lost his property at the time of the earthquake of 1906. He was not rugged. He worked at times in an optical business, but made a scant living. At the time of the death of his wife he owned only a one-half interest in the little farm which was their home and upon which he sought to impress the homestead. His interest in this place was appraised at about $1000. This property was owned jointly by the wife.

The wife possessed the means, and the husband having neither the means nor the ability or fortune to earn a suitable living, the wife, much of the time, supplied the household with provisions, incurred debts for the purchases of effects for herself and otherwise, taking credit in her own personal name.

The brother and contestant maintained that it was the legal duty of the husband to provide the wife with the necessities of life and to defray her funeral expenses unless he was too poor and unable to do so.

Touching on the fact that Mrs. Kuster purchased provisions for the household and charged them to her personal name, Judge Thompson ruled as follows:

"I am of the opinion that where a woman of some wealth marries a man of her choice, poor and disqualified as he may be to earn a suitable living and they live in harmony for six or seven years, as did these parties, and the woman sees fit to gratify her own needs and pleasures in living up to her station in life, rather than his, by buying her own personal effects, or his, or supplying the household, even to the extent of permitting him to live anything electrical.

SONOMA'S LEADING GROCER AND GENERAL MERCHANT

Mother's Day at the Congregational Church

Mother's Day was very fittingly observed at the Congregational church last Sunday morning. The church was simply decorated with large bunches of snowball and white roses. A feature of the service was the passing of white carnations and asparagus fern to each lady in the congregation. The choir rendered two appropriate numbers, and Mrs. Savacool sang the "Old Arm Chair" most effectively.

Mr. Cookman gave a good sermon from the text, "Train Up a Child in the Nurture and Admonition of the Lord." It was an earnest plea for more religious training in the home while the children are small and of an impressionable age.

Flanagan, manager, are spending a few days in town visiting former guests and also making a host of new friends, as both these gentlemen are alert and progressive business men and have come into our midst with the declaration that they want our patronage and have personally come to get it.

Rumor has it that they are looking over hotel site here.

Jake Mayer Property Sold

The property of the late Jake Mayer, at Vineburg, was sold this week by the administrator for $200 per acre. There were 15.9 acres and the purchaser is Angelo Ligi.

Search is still being made for Mayer's daughter, to whom he willed his property, although he had not seen her since she was an infant. Mayer and his wife parted and the baby girl was taken away by the mother. Mayer never heard from her afterwards and did not know whether she was living or dead when he made her the beneficiary under his will.

Mrs. Vannucchi is Better.

The many friends of Mrs. Vannucchi, the pioneer resort proprietor of Verano and mother of Paul Vannucchi, will be pleased to learn that she has entirely recovered from her recent operation in a San Francisco hospital. During her absence the summer resort was capably managed by Chef Tocini, assisted by his sister, recently from the old country and a niece of the Vannuchis, also lately arrived from Italy. The club house and prize kennels were in the efficient charge of Louis W. Geschwindt.

Miss Delia Marmorini, formerly of San Rafael, has accepted a position with M. Kaplan's department store.

JURY GIVES DAMAGES TO WOMAN VISITOR AT FETTERS SPRINGS

That resort keepers are liable for the condition of sidewalks and flooring in the vicinity of their premises is evident from the judgment just rendered against Feters Springs in favor of Mrs. Siegmán, a summer visitor.

Attorneys Louis H. Brownstone and Louis E. Goodman of San Francisco represented the plaintiff, while the defendant was represented by Attorney W. P. Cowan.

The jury included Henry Purrington, Geo. Andrews, Guy C. Mann, Henry Benson, Edward Guisher, William McCutchan, Geo. M. Cook, Christopher C. Grove, Charles S. Foster, Louis Beebe and P. D. Motheren.

Dr. W. B. Hays, who was a witness and attended the woman, testified that her injuries were slight. The jury in the $5000 damage suit of Mrs. Rachel Siegmán against Emma Feters of Feters Springs, brought in a verdict of $500 damages after considerable consideration. Mrs. Siegmán claimed damages because of injuries resulting when she slipped and fell as she was leaving the motion picture theatre at the springs, due to careless construction of the sidewalks. The jury was out one hour and gave the verdict by a vote of ten to two.

An appeal will be taken.

LADIES AID MET AT DODGE HOME

The annual meeting of the Congregational Ladies Aid was held Tuesday at the handsome Dodge home on the former Hall ranch. Mrs. Neal Dodge graciously received the guests the attendance being a goodly one. Mrs. Carrie Burlingame was re-elected president of the organization and the annual report read by Miss Pemberton showed the year's work to have been wonderfully successful. Regret was expressed at the passing during the past year of a respected and devoted member, Mrs. Mary E. Murphy.

After the business meeting and the sewing of carpet rags for the famous society rugs, dainty refreshments consisting of strawberry and vanilla ice cream with a dozen varieties of home made cake was served by Mrs. Dodge assisted by Mrs. Ed Clements. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Geo. Lowell's.

West End Jockey Club Organizes

Sonoma valley is to revive the "sport of kings," and this week, following a successful meet at the Schweitzer ranch Sunday, the West End Jockey Club was organized. To start the movement off just right Mrs. Schweitzer, always enthusiastic about promoting recreation for the young people of her neighborhood, arranged a banquet for some of the leading spirits of the new club at the Plaza restaurant last evening. The gracious owner of the Schweitzer ranch is also considering the laying off of a race track on her property, where racing events will be a feature during the summer.

Enthusiastic over the three races the boys put on last Sunday Mrs. Schultz plans to help the owners of some of the good local horses to show their class and speed. The events last Sunday included an interesting race between three of the oldest horses the boys could trot out. This event was won by Conrad Kiser Jr., A. Sganzi second and Reed Potter third.

Another race between Danieli, Kiser and D. Sganzi was won by Joe Kiser on a Millerick horse.

An exciting finish was pulled off in the race between Louis Felder and R. Potter. The horses were together all the way down the home stretch, Felder finally winning by a nose.

The big event on the program was the classic in which Joe Felder, on Marvin, Joe Kiser, on Goofy, and Razor Pete, on his thoroughbred, got away on an even break and came thundering down the quarter mile with the crowd wildly excited. Razor Pete, favorite in the race, was forced into the ditch on the side of the road and losing his nerve lost his chance to regain his ground, although he made a strong bid for first place and finished second. Felder, on his excellent horse, Marvin, won the race.

An added event was the cowboy stunt staged by Louis Felder, who volunteered to ride Black Beauty, an unbroke pet horse raised by a woman 72 years old, who was sure he was gentle. Louis attempted some liberties with the animal as he mounted and as a result got an unexpected rise out of the cayuse. The West End king pin says he saw stars and got a slant at the moon the cow jumped over too, before he landed in the alfalfa patch near by. The second time Louis stuck, the horse failing to ditch him.

The picturesque old Cliff Dwellings along the historic Apache Trail—near Roosevelt, Arizona

Relics of a Bygone Day

ALONG the Apache Trail in Arizona the motorist can see the dwellings of a race—now believed to be extinct. These cliff dwellings are at least 400 years old and if their walls could speak they would tell a most dramatic story of romance and conquest.

Arizona has more than its share of interesting places to lure the motorist. There he will find many Indian reservations—the homes of Apaches, Navajos, Hopis, Mohaves and other tribes. There, too, is the famous Roosevelt Dam and the incomparable Grand Canyon of the Colorado River.

And wherever he goes the motorist can be sure that his motor fuel will be right—because Red Crown Gasoline is sold everywhere.

Look for the Red Crown sign on service stations and garages.
